Kolkata Centre For Creativity (KCC) recently celebrated International Museum Day through a webinar. The theme for this year as directed by The International Council of Museum (ICOM) was “Museums for Equality: Diversity and Inclusion”. It was participated by eminent speakers such as Goranka Horjan, chairperson, Intercom, member of ICOM, Terry Nyambe, ICOM international board member from Zambia, Zahangir Hussain, President, ICOM Bangladesh and many others.

The session was moderated by Reena Dewan, director, KCC. The discussion revolved around the importance of inclusion of people in museums from all social values and backgrounds. The speakers shared their experiences and inputs on working with marginalised communities and policy makers to overcome challenges in order to become effectively inclusive, both practically and conceptually.
